The mad rush on the divorce courts before the new divorce law becomes effective continues. In fact, there appears to be a stampede on the part of Salt Lake county's divorce colony. Seven women and one man were restored to single bliss in Judge Morse's divorce matinee in the third district court Friday.

Ernest Leatham just left more than two years ago without telling where he was going or when he would be back, Emma Leatham testified. They were married at Eureka, September 18, 1903. Leatham furnished scant support for some time prior to his desertion, it was alleged, and Mrs. Leatham was granted a divorce, the custody of the children, 2 and 4 years old each, and $15 a month alimony, with $50 attorney fees. Leatham is a miner.

William W. Hamilton beat and called her bad names. Annie E. Hamilton testified, and she was granted a divorce on the grounds of ernelty, and $50 at-torney fees. They were married August 28, 1906.

James Maxey, of youthful appearance, was the lone husband asking for a divorce, and he got it on the grounds of desertion. Pearl Maxey descried him in Oklahoma four months after their marriage on March 22, 1903, Maxey testified, going back to her parents.

Too Much Liquor. Drink broke up the home of Viola and George Condie, Mrs. Condie testified. Instead of providing for her, Condie drank his earnings up, she said, and she was granted a divorce and restored to her maiden name of Cushing. The marriage took place here January 6, 1898.

6. 1898.

Dorothy E. Winston, a negress, was granted a divorce from Edward Winston, a negre, who is serving a term in the city jail for assault and battery on her, on the grounds of cruelty. Winston once threatened to assault her with a poker, Mrs. Winston said, and on February 3 last beat her with his fists, for which he was committed to the city ail. Winston did not provide for her properly, only giving her a dollar occasionally, she testified. They were married April 16, 1907, this being Mrs. Winston's second She was restored to her maiden name of Silas Buckland, a teamster, was different to Lulu B. Buckland, and this Mrs. Buckland could not stand, she tes-Mrs. Buckland could not stand, she dis-tified. They were married August 13, 1903, and separated more than a year ago on account of little differences. Mrs. Buckland was given the custody of the boy and $20 a month alimony. Only Put Up $7.

William Morgan Lloyd has contribu-ted $7 towards Maud Elvira Benson Lloyd's support within the last year. Mrs. Lloyd testified. Lloyd wouldn't work, although eminently able to do so. Mrs. Lloyd said, and she was granted a divorce, the custody of the 4-year-old boy and $12 a month alimony. They were married at Bingham Junction August 12, 1903.

James R. Dansie, a fireman, is too quick tempered, Florence Dansie says. They were married February 10, 1904, and Dansie deserted her in January of 1908, following a period in which he or 1998, following a period in which he had failed to support her properly. Once he threw her to the floor and several other times he mistreated her, she said. Mrs. Dansie was granted a divorce, the custody of the child and, although she had not asked it, $15 a month alimony.

Benjamin Seals, a negro, was ordered his wife, who is seeking a divorce, temporary alimony and advance counsel fees: although he testified that he was getting only 75 cents a week salary as a bootblack and a percentage of receipts from "shines." which run about $10 a month, according to his testimony. He gets a pension of $12 a month for having served in the union army in the civil war, though.

Daniel McMillan was discharged on an order directing him to show why he should not be adjudged guilty of con-tempt for alleged failure to pay $20 a month alimony

NO CONFLICT NOW ON GOVERNORS' DAY

Irrigation Congress and G. A. R. Encampment.

EXECUTIVES CAN ATTEND BOTH OF THE FUNCTIONS

Purther Discussion Is Had Regarding Trains During the Big Event.

That there will now be no conflict between the National Irrigation congress, which will be held at Spokane next summer, and the forty-third national encampment of the G. A. R., to be held in the city August 9 to 14, is evident from a letter received Friday from R. trel of the congress, by Col. F. M. Sterrett, executive director of the en-

Sterrett, executive director of the en-campment here.

Arrangements had been made early in the fall by the executive committee of the G. A. R. to hold Governors' day on Wednesday, August 11, and it was feared that, as the same date had been chosen by the officials of the irrigation congress for the holding of their Gov-ernors' day, both events might suffer. Colonel Sterrett has been in corre-spondence with members of the board of control of the irrigation congress for of control of the irrigation congress for some time and it has now been decided to hold Governors' day at Spokane later in the week

Letter on Subject.

This arrangement will permit not only the attendance at both functions of the governors of all the states, but will permit the attendance of President Tart as well. The letter, which explains the situation pretty fully and is dated the situation pretty fully and is dated April 6, follows:

Dear Sir-Your favor of March 20 is received, and it will be quite agreeable to us to arrange for Governor's day Priday or Saturday of the week of the congress, if this will permit Governor Spry to be present. It will also have the advantage probably of increasing the attendance of Governor's day at boil meetings. We can arrange for Governor's day either friday or Saturday, but would prefer Friday if it can be arranged for them to get here in time. Such arrangement would also probably increase the chances of both meetings securing the attendance of President Taft.

We are very glad to hear that Governor Spry would be able to attend and desire to make the arrangements satisfactory to him. We will gladly give you any other information desired and hope that in these matters we can work together to our mutual benefit. Respectfully.

CHILDREN ATTEND PROSPERITY FAIR

"Millions of Them." Is the Way Doorkeeper Tells the Story.

GREAT FISH TANK IS THE CENTER OF INTEREST

Little Folks Have the Time of Their Lives During the Day.

Friday was children's day at the Prosperity Fair and the young people ame in large numbers from everywhere. Millions of them," the doorkeeper said, and it required two hig blue-coated policemen to keep the crowd of small folks properly lined up at the doorway to prevent jamming and all the energy of the entire force of officials was exerted to prevent them from carrying off the entire display inside.

The great fish tank in the front of the building interested the young folks most of all and many amusing questions most of all and many amusing questions were asked about the funy tribes which live therein. The young ladies at the candy and chocolate booths were taxed to their utmost to care for all the demands of the small people. McDonald dispensed large supplies of hot drinks, and Stariup and the other confectionery dealers gave away huge quantities of sweets. The Elgin dairy and the Jensen Creamery commany were well patsweets. The liftin dairy and the Jensen Creamery company were well pat-ronized also and provided plenty of refreshments for the insatuble young-sters. The big Victor phonograph in the front of the building played its merriest tunes and the children laughed and applanded to their heart's content

Little Folks Busy.

The doors were thrown open at 10 o clock and immediately the jam begon. By noon the place was packed with small people and a few unxious mothers and fathers who came along to see that everything went well. By o'clock, however, most of them had gotten all they could out of the show and began to depart. The ladies' G. and began to depart. The ladies' G. A. A contract to this effect was drawn a long time ago, and bears the signatures of almost all the proper national forestry officers, but lacks ratification on the part of the city. Mr. Reynolds sets out that when he took charge of the local office he discovered a copy of the old contract, and immediately took the matter up with his superiors at Washington, D. C. The national forestry service is anxious to take over the watershed, Mr. Reynolds says he has found, and he urges the city to com-

BOARD IS READY TO ACCEPT PIPE

Resolution to This Effect Is Physician Expresses Stron Ra Adopted at the Meeting Held Friday Afternoon.

CONTRACTOR IS ABSOLVED FROM BLAME FOR LEAKAGE

Mr. McMillan, Chairman of the Board of Works, Gives a Detailed Explanation.

Holding that the outlet pipe for the west side sewage system is built according to plans and specifications with two exceptions, the board of public works, in special session Friday afternoon, decided to accept the work. Chairman H. G. McMillan said Friday night. No time was set for the formal acceptance of the work, but under a resolution introduced by Charles D. Rooklidge the contractor was notified to place the work in early readiness for acceptance and approval by the board. The resolution substantially is as fol lows:

lows;

Be it resolved. That the Campbell Building company be notified that the supplemental agreement entered into between the city and the said Campbell Building company on or about January 21 last, is by order of the city council hereby terminated, and that said building company is bereby instructed to get the wood-stave outlet pipe in shape to be accepted and approved by the board.

This resolution Mr. McMillan ex-

This resolution, Mr. McMillan explained, has nothing to do with the resolution adopted by the city council Monday night, only in so far as it abrogates the four months' waiver caabrogates the four months ware tered into by the city and the contractor about January 21. After the board accepts the work the council may do what it pleases with it. The building community has something like $5000 it pleases with it. The building com-pany still has something like $5000 coming to it on the contract, so the city is amply protected.

Work Is Accepted.

Work Is Accepted.

"We met in Mr. Halloran's office, with all members present except Mr. Halloran, who misapprehended the time set for the meeting, said Mr. McMillan Friday night. "We discussed the matter, going over the situation carefully, as we have done before, time after time, with competent persons, and came to the conclusion that the contractor's work has stood for a considerable time all the requirements for which it was built, and decided that we bich it was built, and decided that we crable time all the requirements for which it was built, and decided that we will accept the work, and we shall so report to the city council Monday aight."

The cribbing of the pipe underneath the thirty some odd lines of railway track which pass over the improvement in the neighborhood of Ninth North street, and the use of cast iron shoes for malicable shoes, are the only variations from the plans and specifications, according to Mr. McMillan. After reviewing the carlier slages of the work, and setting out his well known aversion to wood shave pipes, Mr. McMillan gave out the following interview:

"In constructing the pipe underneath the railway tracks it occurred to us that it was the sheerest folly note to put in a reinforcement to protect the line from the weight of passing trains, but in order to get under the tracks the contractor put in cribbing. This he didn't have to do, but he did it at his own expense. When the pipe was finished the railway company insisted that the cribbing is the only thing that saved the pipe, otherwise it would have been as flat as a floor. I had implored authority to put in some sort of a substantial reinforcement, but the city engineer, with others, had thought it an unnecessary expense, so none was put in.

"With the exception of the cribbing."

With the exception of the cribbing and the use of east iron shoes, there is no exception to the construction of the pipe, and the city engineer oughtn't to object to the construction of the pipe now because he had an engineer or two there a part if not all of the time, and was there some himself. His instructions were carried out to the letter, so far as I know.

Fulfilled Its Mission.

Fulfilled Its Mission.

"Well, the pipe was constructed," continued Mr. McMillan, "and the machinery at the pumping station started under the supplementary agreement. And it is a matter of common knowledge that the pipe carried the waters from the intercepting to the gravity sewer until the break occurred under the Oregon Short Line railway track about April 1. In the interim didn't the pipe fulfill the purpose for which it was fulfill the purpose for which it was built?

''After a heavy passenger train passed over the pipe it was observed that the E. B. Heagren, Bicycles, Key-attin water spurted twenty feet high. Upon moved to 427 Main. Ind. 2060.

water spuried twenty feet high. Upon excavating down to the pipe it was discovered that it was considrably flattened and that the bands had burst. This would indicate to any reasonable mind that this condition could not have resulted from an inside pressure. "In the opinion of the board, the test made by pumping water through the pipe was fairly satisfactory although interrupted somewhat. With the exception of the 200 feet under neath the railway tracks, the line has worked fairly well, and the other 4100 feet—there is 4600 feet in the line—being intact and in commission, this and ignored entirely.

"About this time the city engineer, without consulting the board, concluded it would be better to put more bands on the pipe than the specifications called for so he doubled the bands under the railway tracks. This the boards un-der the railway tracks. This the board was in hearty accordance with, and ex-tra work orders for double banding were issued, although it was not believed that this would be of much use against outside pressure, the use of the bands being, in the opinion of the board,

I am very certain that the ball did not pass through any vital of gans, as all origins are operating any open and the selly no pain, as the action of the bow where the ball penetrated is sparing distributed with nerves. There will no operation in search of the ball, though it is probable that later any ray picture will be taken and the clocated. As far as the ball is concern he may carry it with him through if and suffer no disagreeable effects. "This is urged now as one of the perfect parts of the work on the pileaks have occurred from time to the which were promptly stopped by contractor, but they were not solicits as to interfere with the work of the pipe as designed. In fact, the are few wood stave pipes that do leak at first, until sediment stops holes, and some of the indications leaks are merely forced air vents wit out which this pipe was constructed. out which this nipe was construct. Throughout the pipe there is not an vent, which practical engineers tell you is a mistake, especially in line of undulating pipe, as is this.
